Course resource purpose

This course-level downloadable pack upgrades the FCEI resources for Foundations of Finnish-Inspired Education. It is designed for learner use, facilitator guidance, institutional implementation and developer integration on www.fcei.eu.

Framework focus: values-to-practice. Core terminology: equity, trust, wellbeing, professional judgement and evidence-informed improvement.

Professional framing used in every resource

OKM / Ministry of Education and Culture: system development, public responsibility, education quality, institutional direction and policy-aware improvement.

EDUFI: curriculum as a common foundation for equality, local adaptation, school culture, pedagogy, teaching support and learner experience.

FINEEC: enhancement-led evaluation, participation, trust, learning, appreciation, strengths, development targets and impact.

| Downloadable resource      | Finnish Education Values as Practice - Professional Downloadable Toolkit                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Short explanation          | This downloadable toolkit supports Finnish Education Values as Practice within Foundations of Finnish-Inspired Education. It helps participants translate Finnish education principles into a reusable professional artefact, not simply complete a reading activity.                                    |
| OKM framing                | The resource connects classroom, leadership and institutional development to the wider Ministry of Education and Culture policy context: education improvement should be planned as part of system development, quality, inclusion, research-informed practice and public responsibility.                |
| EDUFI-aligned framing      | The resource uses EDUFI-aligned wording by treating curriculum and learning design as a common foundation that supports equality while allowing local adaptation. Participants connect national-level principles to local curriculum, school culture, pedagogy and learner experience.                   |
| FINEEC-benchmarked framing | The resource uses FINEEC-benchmarked wording by applying enhancement-led development: participation, trust, learning, appreciation, strengths, development targets and impact. Evidence is used to improve practice, not to blame individuals.                                                           |
| Meaning in practice        | In practice, participants use the toolkit to identify one priority related to Finnish Education Values as Practice, choose a manageable action, complete the professional template, collect evidence and decide what should improve next.                                                                |
| Evidence requirement       | principle-to-practice evidence, action notes and improvement decision                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Model completed example    | A participant notices that Finnish education values as practice is discussed in general terms but is not yet visible in daily practice. They complete the toolkit by selecting one priority, designing a focused action, collecting one piece of evidence, and writing a next-step improvement decision. |
| Reflection prompt          | What changed in practice after using this Finnish Education Values as Practice resource? What evidence supports your judgement? What should be continued,                                                                                                                                                |

| Downloadable resource      | Professional Judgement and Responsibility - Professional Downloadable Toolkit                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Short explanation          | This downloadable toolkit supports Professional Judgement and Responsibility within Foundations of Finnish-Inspired Education. It helps participants translate Finnish education principles into a reusable professional artefact, not simply complete a reading activity.                                                                                               |
| OKM framing                | The resource connects classroom, leadership and institutional development to the wider Ministry of Education and Culture policy context: education improvement should be planned as part of system development, quality, inclusion, research-informed practice and public responsibility.                                                                                |
| EDUFI-aligned framing      | The resource uses EDUFI-aligned wording by treating curriculum and learning design as a common foundation that supports equality while allowing local adaptation. Participants connect national-level principles to local curriculum, school culture, pedagogy and learner experience.                                                                                   |
| FINEEC-benchmarked framing | The resource uses FINEEC-benchmarked wording by applying enhancement-led development: participation, trust, learning, appreciation, strengths, development targets and impact. Evidence is used to improve practice, not to blame individuals.                                                                                                                           |
| Meaning in practice        | In practice, participants use the toolkit to identify one priority related to Professional Judgement and Responsibility, choose a manageable action, complete the professional template, collect evidence and decide what should improve next.                                                                                                                           |
| Evidence requirement       | principle-to-practice evidence, action notes and improvement decision                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Model completed example    | A participant notices that professional judgement and responsibility is discussed in general terms but is not yet visible in daily practice. They complete the toolkit by selecting one priority, designing a focused action, collecting one piece of evidence, and writing a next-step improvement decision.                                                            |
| Reflection prompt          | What changed in practice after using this Professional Judgement and Responsibility resource? What evidence supports your judgement? What should be continued, adapted, scaled or redesigned?                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Certificate evidence rule  | The downloadable evidence is complete when the participant submits a filled Professional Judgement and Responsibility - Professional Downloadable Toolkit, includes evidence connected to principle-to-practice evidence, action notes and improvement decision, and writes one improvement decision aligned to the FCEI Finnish Teacher Training Development Framework. |
